

WIN² Universal Edition: Terms and Conditions of Use

1. Material contained in this website may be downloaded, viewed and printed for personal non-commercial use or for internal non-commercial circulation within your organisation provided that no trade mark, copyright or other proprietary rights or notices contained in or appearing on such material are removed in whole or in part. Material contained in this website may not otherwise be copied, reproduced or redistributed in whole or in part without prior written permission. Specifically, the material must not be reproduced or exploited for commercial gain. All other rights are reserved and you must seek the University's permission in writing before making any other use of material contained in our website. Permission to reproduce material does not extend to material identified as belonging to third parties, where you must obtain the permission of the relevant owners before reproducing such material. Except where otherwise indicated the copyright of all site contents are owned by the University of Nottingham and designated: © University of Nottingham 2008.
2. Authorisation to use this version of WIN² is arranged via an access code that will be provided via email, following registration. Each access code is unique to the registration.
3. Downloading and use of WIN² is entirely at customer's own risk. WIN² is provided "as is," without warranty of any kind, either express or implied, including without limitation any warranty for information, services, uninterrupted access, or products provided through or in connection with the service, including without limitation the results obtained through the service.
4. The University of Nottingham makes no warranty or representation that WIN² (i) will meet user's requirements, (ii) will be uninterrupted, timely, secure, or error-free, (iii) that results obtained from WIN² will be accurate or reliable, (iv) that the quality of any products, services, information, or other material purchased or obtained by users through the use of the WIN2 software will meet expectations, and (v) that any errors in the software will be corrected.
5. The University of Nottingham, shall in no event be liable for any special, incidental, indirect, punitive or consequential damages whatsoever including, but not limited to, damages for loss of profits, loss of confidential or other information, business interruption, loss of privacy, failure to meet any duty (including of good faith and reasonable care) arising out of or in any way related to the use of or inability to use the software components.

Under no circumstances will the University of Nottingham or any of the contributors to the WIN² software be liable for any of the following losses or damage (whether such losses were foreseen, foreseeable, known or otherwise): (a) loss of data; (b) loss of revenue or anticipated profits; (c) loss of business; (d) loss of opportunity; (e) loss of goodwill or injury to reputation; (f) losses suffered by third parties; or (g) any indirect, consequential, special or exemplary damages arising from the use of WIN2 regardless of the form of action.

6. The terms of use shall be governed by and construed in accordance with English law. Any dispute arising out of the accessing or use of our website shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the English courts.
7. Any reference in these terms and conditions to the University of Nottingham shall include subsidiaries and related companies and institutions.